

Kim Skagen,
GFWC~Washington State
President

Hello, let me introduce myself. My name is Mabel Daisypatch, but you can call me flatMabel. I know you probably find that to be an unusual nickname, but after I explain what happened to me, you'll agree that it is the perfect nickname. I am the face of the President's Special Project for the next two years!

I accidentally got flattened when a bulletin board fell down while I was sleeping. I don't really mind being flat because I could have a lot of exciting adventures this way. I can be carried and mailed and taken in bags and purses! I can be photographed with everything!

I want to be your favorite Cover Girl! I found out that I love to travel and I love all things having to do with babies and little children. I recently spent time visiting at Step by Step in Puyallup. They are a wonderful organization that has helped thousands of families in the local community, giving babies a healthy start and moms the skills they need to thrive.

I decided that I would love to visit clubs across the state and see what they do and what organizations they support that are similar! Hopefully the clubs will take me to meetings, projects, outings, events or anywhere they are doing things benefitting babies. I would love to have my picture taken with you!

The clubs will post my pictures on our GFWC- Washington Facebook pages and share my adventures with others, that would be superb!

If you use my hashtag ... #flatMabel everyone can easily find me! And if clubs are also willing, they will email my pictures to our webmasters (webmasters@gfwcws.org) and our Clubwoman Editor (washingtonclubwoman@yahoo.com) who will be posting as many pictures of me as possible! I would love to see my face everywhere!!

I am hoping to mark on the map all the cities, states, and countries that I visit. Join us for the next two full years of adventures!

Thank you,
Mabel and President Kim
